"AL" MIGHT HAVE WON CONNECTICUT

FRIENDLY FEELING TOWARD NEW YORK GOVERNOR.

LA FOLLETTE STRONG

Laboring Element All To Go For Wisconsin Senator—Senatorial Race Is Creating Interest.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 28.—Out West state after state showed a distinct friendliness to the McAdoo cause and the Democratic leaders said if he had been nominated the Democratic party would not be third. Here in Connecticut is the other side of the story. Had Al Smith been nominated this would have been a doubtful state.

The Democracy of Connecticut is not exactly shirking its task. That would imply something deliberate. Far from it. The Democrats in Connecticut have been disheartened and while the leaders and organization workers are laboring to poll a good Democratic vote, for it has a bearing on future campaigns, the rank and file are dividing as between LaFollette and Coolidge.

The conservative Democrats are turning to the latter because they cannot swallow Bryan on the vice-presidential on the end of the national ticket. Other Democrats especially from the ranks of labor, are planning to vote for LaFollette as a protest.

Laborers for LaFollette.

Opinions vary as to the probable size of the LaFollette vote in this state but most of it will come from the Democratic party any how. So far as affecting the result the figures will have only an academic value.

Talking with some well informed persons from Waterbury, a Democratic stronghold, the writer was assured that Davis would run stronger than Cox did four years ago. This might still be true and yet the totals in the state be less than Cox had. Comparisons between the Cox and Davis votes will be difficult to make for the temptation is to add the LaFollette and Davis vote together to get an idea of what the non-Coolidge vote really is, but one cannot be sure how many Republicans, especially among the workingmen, will have voted for LaFollette.

Strong for "Al"

Al Smith meant something to the Democracy of Connecticut. Labor would have been solid for him. The "wet" sentiment which is by no means negligible would have been his. This is one of the states which has no particular objection to Davis, in fact he is admired by those who have really studied his career, but the masses look upon him somewhat as they do on an aristocrat—someone apart from them. His advocacy of the League of Nations retains for him, of course, a large number of women voters who feel they must constantly strive to support that cause irrespective of whether it triumphs immediately or in the years to come. But among the Democrats of Irish extraction there is disaffection because of the league issue. It is not as intense as four years ago. Then, all the Irish vote with few exceptions went to Harding as a protest against the possibility of American entrance into a League which was supposed to be obligated to maintain the territorial status quo of Great Britain as against Ireland. Since that time the Irish free state has become a member of the League and, theoretically, at least, the members of the League are supposed to help preserve the territorial integrity of the Irish Free State, against encroachments from Great Britain.

Irish Divided.

But among the Irish there has been a division anyhow. There are those who sympathize with the movement in Ireland for a republic by Devalera. They are likely to be found voting for LaFollette. The sympathizers with the Irish free state have, for the most part, returned to the Democratic fold and if they are straying this year it is because of other issues. The League problem may be said, therefore, not to be cutting as much of a figure as it

GARDNER GREETED BY GREAT THRONG

FORMER GOVERNOR IN APPEAL FOR DAVIS.

AT ST. JOE TOMORROW

In Address at Piedmont, Calls Attention of Vast Expenditures of Hyde Administration—Praises Nelson

(Special to the Democrat-Forum)

Piedmont, Mo., Oct. 28.—Governor Gardner continued his campaign for Davis and Nelson by speaking here last night. He was greeted by a great outpouring of people belonging to all political parties from Wayne and adjoining counties. He paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Woodrow Wilson taking as his text, "If a Man Dies Shall He Live Again."

He said that no man in America was so well equipped to be president for all the people as was the great statesman, scholar and diplomat, John W. Davis.

Gardner said that after making relative allowance for receipts and expenditures for the balance of the regime of the Republican administration, he believed that when they went out of office they would leave the state treasury bursted, bankrupt and over one million dollars in debt as well as having squandered and wasted the millions of dollars left in the revenue fund by his administration. He said that it only cost the Democrats of his administration the sum total for four years of $20,817,000 to run the state whereas the expenditures of the present administration would, when completed, be $40,365,000; a record for waste and nepotism never before equalled in any state.

To straighten out the state finances, to build a system of highways, to improve rural schools will require sound judgment of the farmer and business man, Dr. Arthur Nelson.

Gardner said when we read that there are 28,500 empty farm houses in the state today, it would indicate that the farmers' demand for lower taxes is justified. Gardner stated to your correspondent that he would make an appeal in behalf of the Democratic ticket to the business men of the state in his speech at St. Joseph tomorrow night.

Nelson Is Strong for Good Schools

"The Democratic nominee for governor will receive more than his party vote among teachers," said W. T. Carrington of Springfield, former superintendent of public schools and president of the State Teachers College of Springfield, in reply to propaganda put out by the Republicans that Baker will get the votes of many Democratic teachers.

Continuing, Mr. Carrington said:

"School men have made careful examination and find Dr. A. W. Nelson a big, broad, progressive and intelligent man of affairs who appreciates the best in education. As governor he will promote every educational interest of the state. He will recommend liberal state appropriations and apportionments to education and will favor laws to equalize opportunities for all children. All public interests will be safe in his hands. His nomination at this time is a fortunate political event and his election will be more fortunate. He is absolutely right on farm problems, school, roads and taxation."

BIGGEST RALLY OF YEAR AT GUILFORD

DEMOCRAT COUNTY CANDIDATES INTRODUCED.

FINE SUPPER SERVED

John McDaniel Speaks—McCaffrey Tells of National Ticket and Ellison Tells of No. 5.

The Democratic rally held at Guilford last night was one of the best political meetings ever held in that town. Residents of the vicinity crowded the town hall to listen to the speakers and a great deal of interest was taken in what the speakers said. The meeting did not start until about 8:30 o'clock on account of a revival meeting being held in that town by the M. E. Church, South, the church services starting a little earlier so as the church people could attend the political meeting.

Arthur S. Robey, chairman of the Democratic county committee, presided at the meeting and introduced the candidates on the county ticket who were in attendance: Lowell B. Campbell for sheriff, Mrs. Bess Thorp for treasurer, William Job for representative, and John F. McManus for judge of the south district.

John McDaniel, candidate for congressman, spoke for several minutes. He told of how some of the city men were not paying as much taxes as they should and yet the farmers were paying on an assessment that was made during the high times on farm lands. Mr. McDaniel said Congressman Charles L. Faust's personal tax receipt last year was $10.50, and yet during the last four years he has drawn in salary from the national government about $42,000.

George Robb Ellison discussed amendment No. 5, the good roads amendment. He told what it means to Nodaway County and the state. Much favorable sentiment for the road amendment was heard after the address of Mr. Ellison.

Charles F. McCaffrey discussed the national, state and county tickets. He told of the scandals of the national administration, and pleaded for the election of John W. Davis as president and of Dr. A. W. Nelson for governor.

Preceding the speaking, Mrs. Thorp gave a solo, and the Swinford-Hainey quartette, composed of four little girls, sang a campaign song which made a decided hit.

After the meeting, a fine supper was served in the hall by the women of Washington township. There was fried chicken, all kinds of meats and salads, pies, cakes and coffee.

Much credit for the success of the Guilford meeting is due to Charles Skidmore and Mrs. Mary Rimel, members of the Democratic county committee. It was said to have been the best meeting yet held in any of the towns of Nodaway County

The county candidates, with Chairman Robey, and several others, also held meetings yesterday afternoon at Ravenwood and Conception Junction. These meetings were well attended. At Conception the party stopped over to visit the Rev. Father Placidus and the Swinford-Hainey quartette sang the campaign song. Father Placidus requested a copy of this song as he was delighted with it.

Meetings are to be held today by the Democrats at Quitman, Skidmore and Graham. The meeting at Graham will be this evening.

Candy and Politics.

The campaign for the election of the Tower Queen for the State Teachers College year book has developed into a lively contested affair with the campaign managers and co-workers doing everything possible to bring out a large vote for their choice.

This morning several hundred "All Day Suckers" were distributed among the students with the motto "A thousand licks for Lowry," printed on the label. The campaign managers of the other two candidates, Louise Cooper and Florence Pickens, held hasty conferences to formulate plans to combat the latest propaganda that is being used in the campaign. The voting will start tomorrow morning and extend through the day.

OTTO KAHN IS TO BE WITH US AGAIN

APPREHENDED AT OREGON, MO., THIS MORNING.

CALL FOR AMBULANCE

To Bring Him Back—Sheriffs Roach And Atherton Find Kahn at Hotel In Oregon.

Otto Kahn hadn't been away from the St. Francis Hospital long but what the county authorities here found of his whereabouts. Otto Kahn is now in the custody of Sheriff Steve Roach and Deputy Sheriff Leo Atherton, probably on their wal home from Oregon, Mo., in Holt County, where Kahn was apprehended this morning by Roach and Atherton.

The Price Furniture Co., received a call from Sheriff Roach this noon ordering the ambulance to proceed to Oregon so that Kahn could be brought to Maryville, and undoubtedly a hearing will be held.

Otto Kahn, who claims his home as Kansas City, is the man who is alleged to have robbed the C. D. Bellows home on the evening of September 13, and has been confined in the St. Francis Hospital up until about 7 o'clock last Saturday night suffering with a broken hip. The grand jury returned an indictment against him and a warrant sworn out for his arrest but it was not served as the physicians were of the opinion that that he could not be moved until later for a hearing. He was charged with burglary and larceny.

Between 6 and 7 o'clock Saturday night Kahn made his escape from the Hospital. It is presumed that he had outside assistance in making his getaway. The information of his absence was not given to the authorities until Sunday morning.

Mr. Roach and Mr. Atherton were informed that a man fitting Kahn's descriptions was staying at the hotel at Oregon, the information being sent in by the sheriff of Holt County.

Sheriff Roach said this afternoon that Kahn would be brought back here to answer charges filed against him. He has been staying at the Hotel at Oregon since late Saturday night, the same evening he made his escape from Maryville. The friends who helped him escape, he would not divulge, Sheriff Roach said over the telephone this afternoon but he said he had some information on the subject as to whom they were. Sheriff Roach said Kahn gave his excuse for stopping at Oregon because he became lost over in Holt County.

The ambulance left Maryville shortly after 12 noon today and is expected back this evening with Kahn, accompanied by Sheriffs Roach and Atherton.

It is said to have been caused by lead fumes in the manufacture of ethyl gasoline.

YOUTHFUL SLAYER ABSENT AT RITES

RICHARD LOEB NOT ALLOWED TO ATTEND FUNERAL.

NO APPEAL IS MADE

Family Doesn't Request Presence of Son at Services for Father—Removed From Cell Temporarily.

Chicago, Oct. 28—No respite from the life of monotony behind the gray stone walls of the Joliet state penitentiary will come to Richard A. Loeb through the death of his father, Albert H. Loeb.

This became known today when Jacob Loeb, uncle of the youthful slayer of Robert Franks, brought the news of the death to Richard in the solemnity of the guard room at Joliet where, through the night, the boy waited, watched over by a single guard, for a message the import of which he could only guess.

He was removed from his cell at midnight when warden Whitman was advised of the elder Loeb's death, in order that no word might "leak" to the prisoner through the prison's "grape vine" system. Members of the family had requested that one of their number be permitted to tell Richard in person.

After advising Richard, Jacob Loeb told warden Whitman that no request that the boy be permitted to attend his father's funeral service, would be made

The elder Loeb left a personal fortune estimated at between five and ten million dollars.

Carnival at Graham Is Great Success

Given Friday Night by Parent-Teachers Association There—Proceeds Amounted to $136.

The carnival given by the Graham Parent-Teacher Association last Friday night in the high school building was one of the most successful social affairs in the history of the organization. An admission of one cent was charged at the door. The Hallowe'en colors, yellow and black, and autumn leaves were used in decorating the class rooms.

Coffee, pumpkin pie, cider, doughnuts, sandwiches and ice cream were served. The first floor was occupied by the coffee and sandwich booths. From these the crowds traveled to the land of the Japanese with their beautiful costumes and gardens. Then followed a pilgrimage back to America with her cat racks, menagerie, cave of the winds, and rest and Red Cross rooms, up the stair to a lovely pond filled with ducks and swan, past the washing and the incubator babies; into the corn field where ghosts and witches served doughnuts, home-made candy and popcorn; down into the beauty parlor where was found the bloom of youth; and last but not least into the sunny southland where the darkies sang and danced.

The proceeds amounted to $136.

PEOPLE ENTITLED TO KNOW POLICIES

SAYS DAVIS IN FIRST FORMAL STATEMENT.

U. S. MUST AID ALL

Policies Must Not Be Framed for Interests of Few—Liberalism vs. Reaction.

New York, Oct. 28.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, today issued the first of a series of daily statements calculated to show the electorate where he stands on national and international issues.

"The American people," the candidate said in explanation, "are entitled to know the policies which I will seek to put into effect, if I am elected President.

"The supreme issue of this campaign," the statement continues, "is shall the attitude of mind of the national administration be one of liberalism or one of reaction?

"Shall our national policies be framed with primary regard to the interests of a few or for the welfare of all?

"Shall the American government be made to embody the idea of each man for himself?

"Shall the American people through this government reassume the moral leadership of mankind?

"Such an issue as this transcends every question of today. We face a world wherein the supreme material problem is that of equitable distribution of wealth. The Democratic party stands for the position that law and government should encourage the distribution of that wealth with all proper regard for the toil of the men who produce it; the Republican party for the doctrine that if we turn over the major portion of that wealth to a competent few, they will themselves distribute it for the benefit of the many.

"The Democratic party stands for the utmost possible democracy in industry; the Republicans for a glorified oligarchy."

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY.

THE BALLOT IS TOO LONG.

(Kansas City Star)

The official ballot of Missouri is as big as two pages of The Star. It has to be of this size in order to carry the full party ticket with thirty-nine names. Eighteen of these are names of presidential electors which require no attention from the voter unless, indeed, he wishes to vote a split ticket which may require a mark before each of the eighteen names.

Twenty-one names are left for him to deal with of state and county officers. Of these he probably knows the names of the candidates for governor and for congressman, and perhaps two or three others. For at least fifteen of the candidates he must vote blindly. He has no chance in the primary or in the election to know who are the fittest men for all these offices. It is a gamble with the average voter.

Why should anybody be asked to vote for a secretary of state, an auditor, a treasurer, an attorney general, a county coroner, surveyor, public administrator? Few persons have ever heard of the candidates. How can they vote on them intelligently?

The President is permitted to choose his cabinet. Evidently he is in a position to make a better choice than the voters. Why shouldn't the governor of Missouri be permitted to choose his cabinet?

Legislative officers who determine policies should be elected. But it simply makes for confusion to require the voters to pass on a lot of administrative officials who ought to be appointed by an executive elected by the people.

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO VOTE?

The new ballot which will be given voters November 4 is the biggest thing that has yet been brought out in this campaign. It will be 19½ by 37½ inches, which means that it is nearly two feet in width and more than a yard long. Under each party designation at the top will be found a circle. Those who want to vote a straight party ticket may do so by simply placing a cross mark in the large circle at the top of the ticket they desire to vote.

Those who desire to vote a "mixed" ticket, or for candidates in different parties, must place a cross mark in the circle at the head of the ticket carrying the presidential electors he desires to vote for and then place a cross mark in the little squares at the left of each candidate for whom he desires to vote on any other ticket. For instance, if a man desires to vote for LaFollette for president, he will place a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket denominated "Socialist Party." If he then desires to vote for the remainder of the candidates on the democratic ticket, he will begin with the candidate for governor and place a cross in the little squares at the left of the name of each candidate for whom he desires to vote. He must not place a cross opposite the names of two men running for the same office nor fail to place a cross opposite the name of some one candidate if he desires his vote for this particular office to be counted. When he has finished his ballot, he will fold it up and give it to the receiving judge as heretofore.

He will also be given an amendment ballot which he must vote separately and this ballot contains eight proposals, some of which are very important. He only has to scratch out "no" if he desires to vote "yes" and vice versa on the amendment ballot but, he will not get much information as to the nature of these amendments from the title on the ballot, and he should know what they are before going into the polling place. It will be necessary to act promptly in the polling places in order that all ballots may be handled within the time allowed by law.

If you haven't thought about the matter, study the question of voting this week so that you will know just what you want to do when you go to the polls. This will be to your advantage, it will help you to vote intelligently and be a great help to those handling the ballots.

It looks like some of the straw used in the straw votes is getting a little rotten.

The great trouble with Mr. Coolidge is that he is in the hands of the bosses. If he wins, the bosses win.

We used to look to the sidewalks of a town to see if it was alive. Now we have to look to the streets and see how many automobiles are parked and moving.

If the Herald did not believe it was for the best interest of the rural communities of Missouri to advocate a support of proposition No. 5 it would not do so. But when we see an opportunity of getting a system of good roads in Missouri, and under the proposition, the people of the cities and towns pay 75 per cent of the tax and the people of the rural communities pay only 25 per cent, and all the money be expended on rural highways, we think we would be a dense one not to support the proposition—Armstrong Herold.

Four years ago a President of the United States and many other officials were elected by a minority vote. A great per cent of the voters did not vote. This should not be. An election to be an honest expression of the will of the people must embrace a full and fair vote. Every man and every woman in this country who is entitled to suffrage should exercise it next November 4th. The issues demand it, the candidates are entitled to it and the public welfare and the perpetuity of popular government demands it. Vote for the men your conscience tells you can and will serve the people best but vote for somebody.

This, my friends, is a fighting campaign. The little town in West Virginia, where I saw the light, counts as its proudest boast that it gave to America and to the world perhaps, the greatest military genius ever born on this side of the Atlantic Ocean. It was the birthplace of Stonewall Jackson, and the story goes that after the Battle of Chancellorsville, when his mighty spirit had gone to join the great immortals, one of his officers, stepping to his lifeless corpse touched his cold hand and said: "If you meet with Caesar tonight, in the Elysian Fields, tell him we still make war." And if tonight, in the Elysian Fields, the spirit of Woodrow Wilson shall encounter the shades of Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, I ask him in your name and in the name of the American Democracy to tell them we still make war.—John W. Davis, Address at Bunceton, Mo.

did four years ago.

The Democrats have not much hope however, of carrying through even their state ticket and it is suggested here and there that nominations were made perfunctorily and without confidence that much could be accomplished.

Interest in Special Election.

The Democrats are nevertheless getting interested in the outcome of the special election on December 16, at which a successor to the late Senator Brandegee will be chosen. Republican leaders are at odds with Governor Templeton, a Republican, for calling the election, as they had hoped to dictate a choice after the legislature had been convened. A Republican can be expected to win the special election unless the schism in the Republican ranks leads to the nomination of someone who will alienate the independent vote of the state.

Connecticut is overwhelmingly Republican, and the vote for Coolidge, while probably not as heavy as Harding received, will be sufficient.

JONES BRANCH DISTRICT

We will have our first quarterly examinations Tuesday and Wednesday. Everyone is anxious to get them over.

The second community meeting was held Friday evening. The children had challenged their parents for a spelling match, and this was the program for the evening. The parents won, but the children made them earn their victory. Mrs. C. C. Carr and Mrs. C. A. Barman won the title of "Champion spellers" on the parents side. After the spelling match we had a wiener roast. The women served apples and sandwiches. About forty persons were present.

DOCKERY, PAST 80, IS CAMPAIGNING

AT MACON HE HAD BIGGEST CROWD AT HIS MEETING.

IN MARYVILLE MONDAY

In Tribute to the Veteran Statesman, The Audience At Macon Gave Rising Salute.

The following article taken from the Kansas City Star about former Governor A. M. Dockery of Gallatin who will close the Democratic campaign in Nodaway County at Maryville on next Monday afternoon when he will speak at the court house at 2 o'clock, will be interesting to his many friends here.

Macon, Mo., Oct. 28.—"Born on the shores of Honey Creek," in Daviess County, some eighty years ago, former Governor A. M. Dockery of Gallatin visited Macon, the scene of his youth, Saturday, and spoke to the biggest crowd that has assembled to hear any political speaker here in this campaign.

Other meetings had been far more extensively advertised, but the statesman from Honey Creek got the crowd.

While not quite as spry as he was that day in June, 1861, when he followed closely at the heels of his pugnacious preceptor, Dr. Frank W. Allen, head of the Macon academy, who abandoned the Latin lessons to confront the whole Sixteenth Illinois regiment of bluecoats for having dared to chop down the "rebel" flagpole on the main street of Macon, yet the former state executive talks clearly and with vigor, and knows the trick of keeping his crowd busy applauding. There is no chance to doze at a Dockery meeting.

Only the "Unvarnished Truth."

In introducing Mr. Dockery, his long-time friend and fellow-physician, Dr. A. B. Miller, spoke of the flag incident as having taken place sixty years ago.

"Sixty-three years ago, doctor," corrected Mr. Dockery. "I've told some of my Republican friends that if they came here this afternoon they wouldn't hear anything but the unvarnished truth. That was the day the war started in North Missouri."

It was a superb autumn afternoon, and the town was full of people from the country doing their week-end shopping. When they learned the former governor was in town and would speak they dropped all other errands and swarmed to the court house to hear him, the women as eagerly as the men. Especially were the frosty-haired campaigners of other days there, well up in front, ready with their handclaps and cheers.

The veteran statesman declined to speak from the rostrum. He stood in the open space below, with his auditors packed all around him.

"Looks more home-like this way," he smiled. "We don't want a platform between friends."

A Typical Dockery Speech.

The white-mustached orator from Honey Creek told stories grave and gay, he rung the changes on Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Wilson in a way that brought out thunderous applause. He took pot shots at the Republicans and extended a friendly hand to the farmer, and held the closest attention of his big audience from first to last. Frequently the Republicans in the room joined in the cheering. The eloquent speaker made no one angry. At one moment he would land a swift thrust at some Republican in public life, and atone for it by saying something nice about some other Republican. It was a typical Dockery speech, interesting, diplomatic, good-natured.

When Mr. Dockery had finished and before the long applause had quieted down Chairman Miller said: "You have had the pleasure of listening to the last of that illustrous galaxy of leaders who have done much for our state and nation by their wise statesmanship and unswerving patriotism, and I suggest, as a mark of respect to him, we rise and remain standing a moment.

As one person the audience arose, Democrats and Republicans, and stood in silent tribute to the "last of the Romans."

Mr. Dockery wore his famous slouch hat as he stood out in the courtyard to be photographed with Dr. Miller.

"I generally wear it when I have my picture taken," he smiled. "The newspaper boys seem to think it is a part of me."

TARIFF HURTS FARMERS

Republican Law Fosters Price-Fixing And Raises Living Costs.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Republican partisans who point to the tariff as a boon to farmers and a blessing to labor are read a good lecture in an editorial in the Milwaukee Journal a few days ago.

"Under the system of price-fixing fostered by the Fordney-McCumber tariff," says the Journal, "the average farmer has no chance to save money long. For the tariff enters into nearly everything he does not produce on his own land; and as farm prices go up other prices keep a leap ahead."

The editorial then declares that "labor, too, is told that the tariff has maintained good wages and upheld the standard of living," and then points out that "all the time large employers were bringing thousands of foreigners into this country."

—to have a good APPETITE!

"Yes! thank you."

A GOOD appetite means a cheerful disposition.

You may have a good appetite if the blood that goes constantly to your vital organs is pure. S.S.S. purifies the blood—a good appetite follows and you will have a clear complexion and will be strong, cheerful and healthy.

Don't go on feeling up one day and down the next—hardly sick but never well—losing "pep," punch and ambition. Hearty eaters are the red-blooded men and women. Enjoy your food! Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically run-down condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood-cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. S.S.S. aids Nature in supplying new red-blood-cells,—the spark that rejogs your system. Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S.S.S.—the great blood purifier which gives Nature a helping hand.

Get back the lost appetite, the missing vitality, the keen, sparkling eyes, that look of determination. S.S.S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

PAUL BELIEVED WHAT HE WROTE

IS OPINION OF THE REV. H. H. HALLEY.

CHRIST GIVES MEANING

To Every Christian Doctrine, Rev. Halley Says—Monday Not "Blue" at Christian Church.

In spite of the big day on Sunday, and the fact that Monday is considered by all revivalists as being a "blue" day, a large crowd heard the Rev. H. H. Halley begin his recitals of the Epistles of the New Testament at the Christian Church last night. He will devote all the rest of the services excepting the last night, to these epistles, closing the whole series with the book of Revelation.

"Nobody can doubt that Paul was dead in earnest in his writings," declared Mr. Halley. "In fact all the writers of the New Testament wrote like they believed the things they wrote. It doesn't sound like they were writing folk-lore stories or giving accounts of only a mythical character.

"If Paul believed what he wrote about the Resurrection of Jesus, I believe it must be so. He was faithful to that belief even unto death, when the mere giving up of that belief would have saved him his life. This is pretty good evidence of one's sincerity, and surely Paul knew what he was writing about. He was a man of wonderful powers, and had opportunities to know of the things he wrote.

"It is Christ that gives meaning to every Christian doctrine. It is not so much a question as to what one believes but in whom does one believe. Perhaps our greatest temptation is to become legalistic in our thinking and practices. We put special emphasis upon some Christian grace or doctrine, and these may be right, but by placing undue emphasis upon these we build up around ourselves a peculiar sect and thus draw men away from Christ as the real center of all our religious thought. How easy it is to divide good people upon some special doctrine. Let us all settle back to Christ and make Him the center of all our religious thinking."

The Reverend Mr. Halley recited from the books of Colassians, Ephesians, Philemon and Second Timothy last night. These books tell us especially of the Deity of Jesus and also of the Unity of the people of God. Mr. Halley made extended statements regarding these two vital things in the church of today. He believes that the unity of Protestantism will eventually come and that considering the many things that had their hold upon us which we inherited from the Medieval age, we are making great progress toward unity.

There will be afternoon services today, tomorrow and Thursday at 2:30 o'clock.

City Observing Hallowe'en Spirit in True Fashion

A glimpse of most of the show windows of the stores in Maryville indicates a season of the year near at hand when the goblins, ghosts, and black cats revel and go forth in the wee small hours of the night to frisk around on the one appointed, or rather designated time of the twelve months.

Although known as Hallowe'en, the eve of October 31, the real designation of the celebration is the festival of the Christian Church, instituted in 835, and celebrated on November 1 in honor of the saints in general, and known as "All Saints' Day."

Webster says in regard to Hallowe'en:

"The evening preceding All-Hallow or All Saints' Day, the evening of October 31. In many countries Hallowe'en is traditionally devoted to merrymaking with playful ceremonies and charms to discover future husbands or wives."

Whether the last part of the definition Webster gives still holds true in United States, the event is traditionally observed for a time of merrymaking. In Maryville many parties are planned for during the week, as well on October 31 and the students of the Teachers College will hold forth tonight in ceremony, song and dance as the feature of a masquerade party at the College building.

Along with the pleasant affairs conducted on Hallowe'en there are also the pranks of the youngsters of each town and village who contrive to make it unpleasant in many ways and often these pranks are of a destructive nature. However, the time is rapidly passing when the police are constantly kept on the watch and the harassing pranks of the evenings fading into oblivion in favor of other activities.

THREE BIG CHIEFS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

John W. Davis on his recent visit to the Democratic National Headquarters at Washington met not only the principal managers of his campaign but also all the members of the working force, including many women who this year have a large share in the activities. Mr. Davis met and shook hands with these men and women who are helping in a humbler but hardly less important way to bring a Democratic victory. To all of them he expressed his thanks for their efforts.

While in Washington Mr. Davis also was the guest of the National Press Club, many of whose members—correspondents of the leading newspapers of the country—he had known when he was serving in Congress and as Solicitor General. There was a full attendance of members of the Club and their friends at the reception given to Mr. Davis and he was tumultuously applauded when he appeared. He told several bright stories—mostly at his own expense—and then shook hands all around.

Mr. Davis refrained from politics as a theme of his talk to the correspondents, but assured them that his "political health" was excellent.

J. W. DAVIS OFTEN MAKES POINTS WITH STORIES

Early this spring John W. Davis was at lunch in a New York club when he was approached by "Dick" Hodgkin, one of the enthusiastic organizers of the "Davis for President" Club of Washington, D. C. Mr. Davis introduced Hodgkin to the friends with whom he was lunching, and Hodgkin said:

"I've just organized a club in Washington that is going to make Mr. Davis President."

Mr. Davis laughed and said:

"I feel for you the same sentiments expressed by the Western tourist who watched a drunken cowboy lasso the smokestack of a fast-moving locomotive. The tourist remarked dryly, 'I admire your nerve but think you have rotten judgment.'"

EXAMPLE OF DAVIS' QUICK "COME-BACK"

John W. Davis' speed on the comeback is interestingly demonstrated in a skit printed by Theodore A. Huntley in his "Life of Davis" (Duffield & Co., N. Y.), which is just off the press. The story follows:

"When the so-called Five Per Cent cases were before the United States Supreme Court Davis appeared for the government on a certain Tuesday. On the following Monday the court issued an order for a rehearing. John J. Fitzgerald of New York, counsel for the defense, gathered several other lawyers around him and called Davis over.

"'Here he is,' Fitzgerald bantered. 'Has to argue the case again. Can't make the court understand what he is talking about.'

"'Nothing of the sort,' Davis retorted, 'I got an encore.'"

Fred Shell Gets Two Years in Pen

Entered a Plea of Guilty to Forgery in Second Degree in Circuit Court Today.

Fred C. Shell, who was indicted by the grand jury recently on a charge of second degree forgery, entered a plea of guilty before Judge John M. Dawson in circuit court this morning and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Shell gave checks to several merchants of Maryville a few weeks ago.

In the case of the Brewster State Bank against John Ramey, note, a motion for a new trial is sustained by the court for the reason that the verdict is against the evidence and for the further reason that the court erred in giving an instruction on the part of the defendant.

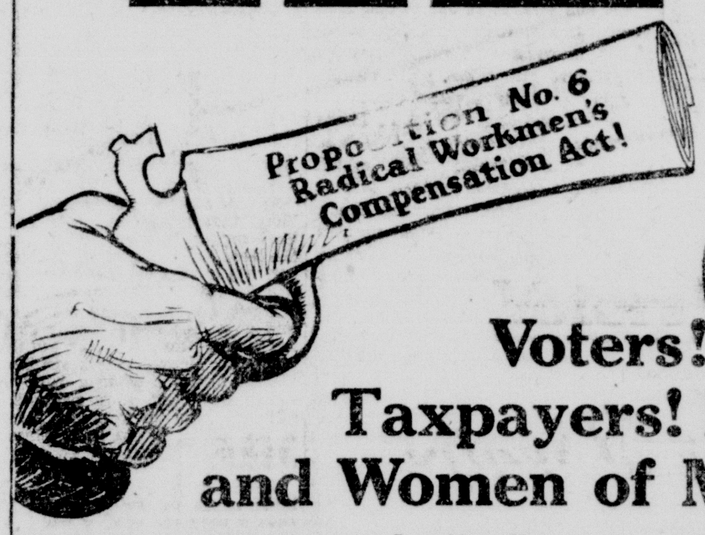
Beware of No. 6

Your Vote Nov. 4th is your only defense!



Voters! Taxpayers! Men and Women of Missouri!

On Nov. 4th, you will be asked to vote on Proposition No. 6. It is called the Workman's Compensation Act.

It was framed up, not by your legislators, but by the hired attorneys of radical labor leaders.

It is the most radical act of its kind ever submitted to the voters of any State in the Union.

Its terms are so drastic and costly that it is certain to drive out of the State people now in business here—and to keep out of the State people who would otherwise go into business in Missouri.

This loss of taxes would then have to be made up by increasing the taxes of all the people.

It sets up a Bureau of Highly Paid Commissioners, with powers to employ as many Inspectors, Investigators, Adjustors and other Assistants as they want.

It gives this highly paid commission an initial sum of FOUR MILLION DOLLARS ($4,000,000) to handle and an additional sum of SIX to EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS annually thereafter.

You can understand, of course, that every radical in Missouri will vote for No. 6. These radical labor leaders, therefore, expect to get No. 6 over by the failure of the average voter to vote at all on this proposition.

If the people of Missouri don't vote against it, the radicals will win. Your vote can't count against it unless you Scratch "YES."

This measure is so long, involved and technical that few voters will ever get the chance to find out what it all means and to understand how hard it hits the pocketbook of every tax-payer.

Will the people of Missouri let a proposition GET BY THEM that they have never had the opportunity to read? Will they gamble with the resources of Missouri, not knowing what is at stake?

It's up to the men and women voters to protect themselves from this drastic, costly proposition. It's better to be safe than sorry.

You will find Proposition No. 6 on the special ballot handed you Nov. 4th. Look it up and then

Scratch ~~YES~~ Vote NO on Proposition No. 6

A Workman's Compensation Bill based on the experience of forty-two states will be worked out in your Legislature next January where these provisions may be carefully considered and where all phases of the subject will be discussed in public hearings.

NOMINEE DAWES WON'T DISCUSS BANK FAILURE

Continues To Dodge Questions About His Part In Organizing "Billy" Lorimer's Institution.

COURT HOLDS CANDIDATE'S TRUST COMPANY LIABLE

Decision Compels Payment Of $165,000 To Creditors Of Defunct LaSalle Street Savings And Trust.

Washington, D. C., October.—Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate Dawes continues to evade making any reply to the numerous demands that he explain his connection with the organization and subsequent failure of the LaSalle Street Bank of Chicago, founded by his intimate personal friend and political associate, "Billy" Lorimer, who was ousted from the Senate on charges of corruption in 1912. Senator LaFollette, Senator Wheeler, and many other opponents of Mr. Dawes, have repeatedly challenged him to deny the charge that he permitted the funds of his Central Trust Company to be used by Lorimer but he has refused to answer.

The Supreme Court of Illinois, on the very day that Mr. Dawes was nominated at Cleveland, held that his bank, of which he was president and of whose board of directors he is still chairman, was liable for a part of the heavy losses sustained by the depositors of the Lorimer bank.

The story of the Republican vice-presidential candidate's part in the organization of Lorimer's bank is briefly this: Lorimer wanted to establish the LaSalle Street Savings and Trust Bank, under the laws of Illinois. The law required that before a State bank could do business its capital and surplus should be represented by actual cash. The LaSalle Street National Bank, which Lorimer controlled and which he was about to discontinue, had insufficient funds. Lorimer went to the Dawes bank, the Central Trust Company. It was arranged that on the presentation of notes, the Central Trust Company would lend the money needed to start the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings Bank and thus satisfy the requirements of the law.

Ten men associated with Lorimer gave their notes for $125,000 each. It was alleged that none of the makers of these notes had money or credit to the amount of his individual obligation in this case. Charles R. Munday, one of the makers, was subsequently convicted and jailed for his part in wrecking a bank. On October 21, 1912, the cashier of the LaSalle Street Savings and Trust Bank (the Lorimer institution) wrote a check for $1,250,000 on the Central Trust Company (the Dawes' bank) payable to the LaSalle Street Savings and Trust Bank. The State auditor was called into see that the new bank (LaSalle Street Savings and Trust Bank) had the funds the law required.

How Capital "Was Raised"

Accompanied by Lorimer and the cashier of the Central Trust Company (the Dawes' bank), the auditor was taken to vaults of the latter institution and shown the cash. The auditor counted this money and found that it totaled $1,250,000. But he was not told that it was merely "loaned" on the notes and that it belonged not to Lorimer's bank but to Dawes' bank. As a matter of fact—as appears in the record before the Supreme Court of Illinois—this money never left the vaults of Mr. Dawes' bank and it was not intended that it should.

With this show of wealth the Lorimer bank opened for business. Hundreds of persons, many of them poor people, deposited their money in this bank whose capital was the ten pieces of paper signed in some instances by Lorimer's clerks. The funds placed in the bank's keeping were lent to Lorimer political friends on collateral that proved eventually to be worthless. After a precarious career the bank failed. When its doors closed it had in its possesion three-quarters of a million dollars in "paper" indorsed by Lorimer and Munday.

When a receiver was appointed he demanded that Dawes' bank turn over for the benefit of the creditors the $1,250,000 supposed to represent its capital. The Dawes' bank refused to surrender the money and a long litigation began. In its final decision the Supreme Court of Illinois ordered the Dawes bank to pay $165,000 for the benefit of the creditors of the Lorimer bank. This decision held the Dawes bank liable for its part in the transaction by which the State auditor was persuaded to believe that the Lorimer bank had real capital when it hadn't.

In attempting to escape responsibility for its share in this peculiar affair, the Dawes bank fought in the courts for ten years and expended a large sum of money.

But Candidate Dawes keeps silent. However, the record and the decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois speak for him.

Give Twelve Reasons For Davis' Election

Democrats Name All Campaign Issues in Arguments for Their Presidential Candidate.

Washington, D. C.—Twelve reasons why John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan should be elected on November 4 have been offered by voters in Washington, D. C., and are now being used by speakers in the campaign in various parts of the country. All the leading issues in the presidential contest are stated in epitome in the twelve reasons.

Here are the reasons the Democrats are advancing for the election of their presidential and vice-presidential candidates:

1. Davis and Bryan are progressives, have clean records and are men of outstanding ability.
2. They would raise national administration from insignificant mediocrity to dignity and distinction.
3. They are not only honest themselves, but they would demand and enforce honesty in all parts of the government.
4. They would turn out rascals and replace them with conscientious public servants.
5. They are the enemies of the protective high tariff which takes money out of the pockets of the general public to put it into the pockets of an already rich favored class.
6. They believe that public office is a public trust and not a private graft.
7. They believe in an erect, responsible foreign policy whereby America will frankly and courageously take her place in the council of nations instead of pussy footing through the back door or sitting on the doorstep.
8. They believe in equitable taxation. They do NOT believe in removing taxes from the excessively rich and keeping them on the less fortunate, as the Mellon plan proposed.
9. They believe labor as well as capital should get a square deal.
10. They pledge themselves to the Democratic policy of benefits for all the people as opposed to special favors to special classes.
11. They advocate the ratification of the Child Labor Amendment to the Constitution, and the protection of women in industry.
12. Their election means honesty at home, honor abroad and world peace and prosperity.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS WIN NOMINATIONS

Women who have sought Democratic nominations in the primaries this year have been unusually successful; one woman holds a gubernatorial nomination, three hold Congressional nominations and two have been nominated for Secretary of State. A fourth has just been nominated in New Jersey in her district for Congress.

Mrs. J. A. Ferguson holds the nomination, which is virtually equivalent to the election as Governor of Texas. Mrs. Mary Ward Hart, of Benton, Illinois, is running for Congress at large on the Democratic ticket; Miss Phebe Sutliff was nominated for Congress in her district at Warren, Ohio, in the Democratic primaries, and Miss Nellie Cline, of Larned, Kansas, has the Democratic nomination for the seventh district.

Miss Sutliff won in the district in which Mrs. Harriett Taylor Upton, former vice chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, unsuccessfully sought the Republican nomination for Congress. Miss Cline is a lawyer, and has been twice a member of the State Legislature in Kansas. Mrs. Mary I. Norton, of Newark, New Jersey, is contending for the nomination in her district, and if she wins, is virtually assured of a seat in Congress, as the district is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Careful Drying Seed Corn Is Imperative

Place Ears in Hangers So They Do Not Touch and Where Air Circulation Is Good.

Careful drying and storage of seed corn is almost as important to the success of Missouri's "Seed Saving Week" as the selection of the seed in the field.

The same day that the seed corn is gathered it should be placed in hangers or in racks to dry. These racks or hangers should be placed where there is good circulation of air. Place the ears so that they do not touch one another. Where they touch one another they often mould or fail to dry thoroughly. About six weeks is required to dry the seed. Repeated experiments show that this curing or drying out of the seed greatly increases the yield.

It is just as important to keep seed corn dry as it is to dry it in the first place. If stored in damp rooms or where damp air will strike it, the kernels will absorbe moisture again. Freezing will then weaken or kill the germ.

An attic of a dwelling is usually a good place to store seed corn if it is free from mice. There should be some means of ventilation, however, if it is to give best results. The fire in the rooms below helps to keep out dampness and extremely low temperature. Some store corn is a granary in well dried oats. A good layer of oats is put in the bottom of the bin, then a layer of corn, a layer of oats, and so on until all the seed is in. A layer of oats about eighteen inches deep is then spread over the top. This protects against rats and mice. The oats keep out excessive moisture and prevent rapid changes in temperature.

BEARCATS WORK HARD FOR GAME

KIRKSVILLE CONSIDERED STIFF OPPOSITION FOR MARYVILLE.

IS HOMECOMING DAY

Kirksville Has Won But One Game This Season But Is Preparing To Give Bearcats Battle.

"Maryville is going to have to put in some hard work in order to beat the Kirksville Bulldogs," is the statement of H. Frank Lawrence, coach of the Maryville Bearcats. The Kirksville team is one of the two remaining squads to be defeated by the Bearcats before they can claim a championship and so Coaches Lawrence and Jones are not letting anything be overlooked in their task of preparing the College team for the game at Kirksville Friday afternoon.

The Bulldogs have played four games so far this season but have won only the first one. The scores in the games so far have been: Kirksville 6, Chillicothe Business College 0, Kemper Academy 17, Kirksville 0, Iowa Wesleyan College 7, Kirksville 6, Kirksville Osteopaths 25, Kirksville 0. Two of the backfield men of the Kirksville team are on the injured list with bad knees which will be a handicap in the game but the Bulldogs are practicing hard to erase the sting of the defeat administered last year at Maryville. According to a Kirksville report the Maryville game is expected to be the hardest fought game of the season.

The game will be "Home-coming" game for the Kirksville team as the Northwest Missouri State Teachers Association is convening at this time in Kirksville.

The Maryville Bearcats will probably leave Thursday morning for the Kirksville camp. Coach Lawrence has not picked the squad that will make the trip to Kirksville yet.

The buttons are in the shape of a football with the inscription "Shake 'Em Spoofhounds" and with the High School colors of green and black. The buttons have been selling like hot cakes at the High School.

The first annual homecoming of the Maryville High School will be held Friday. A great number of alumni are expected back on that day as a number of invitations have been mailed out. All the alumni are invited.

At 11 o'clock in the morning the alumni will furnish the entertainment at assembly in the High School auditorium. In the afternoon the Spoofhounds will engage the Savannah High School team in a football game on the College gridiron.

In the evening an operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon" will be presented by the dramatics and music departments of the High School.

Savannah is expected to bring a large delegation of rooters with the football team and in order to show the visitors just how much pep there really is in Maryville, the townspeople are urged to attend the game and wear one of the "Rooter Buttons" which will distinguish them as Maryville boosters.

Miss L. Anna Owens Composes Nodaway County Campaign Songs

Miss L. Anna Owens, sister of Mrs. J. J. Heifner, vice-chairman of the Nodaway County Democratic committee, has composed two campaign songs which are being used by the Democrats this week at their meetings in Nodaway County. Miss Owens who is here visiting Mrs. Heifner has written several poems and other articles which are very creditable.

One of the songs, "Our County Ticket" was sung by the Hainey-Swinford quartette of Arkoe at the Democratic meetings held yesterday. This quartette is composed of Gretchen Hainey, Gertrude Hainey, Miriam Jones and Lois Lee Swinford, all little girls from 9 to 11 years old and living in Arkoe. This quartette made a great hit with the people who heard them yesterday. These little girls will sing at the other Democratic meetings being held in the county this week and will give their song at the closing meeting to be held in Maryville next Monday afternoon when Governor A. M. Dockery will speak.

The other song, "Vote Them In, Vote Them In," will be sung by Mrs. I. E. Tulloch and Mrs. William Everhart of Maryville at several of these meetings this week.

The words of the county campaign song "Our County Ticket" to the tune of "It Ain't Agonna Rain No More" follows:

The burden of my little song,
And that of its refrain,
Is the county ticket, good and strong
In the Democratic campaign.
So's the other side, too,
So rouse up yer neighbors and yer kin,
There's plenty of work to do.
Chorus.
We ain't agonna sleep no more
We ain't agonna sleep no more
Then how in the world kin the Democrats fail
When they ain't agonna sleep no more.
I heard a pretty woman vow
She was a Democrat,
But didn't care to vote, somehow
Now what do you think of that?
O, you must have party pep and pride,
And so in grand array,
We'll make quick work of the other side,
When it comes election day.
Chorus.
We ain't agonna shirk no more,
We ain't agonna shirk no more,
Then how in the world kin the Democrats fail
If they ain't agonna shirk no more.
The Democrats are bound fer to win
If everybody'll work,
Then whoop 'er up boys, it's time to begin
There ain't no time fer to shirk.
Come along, fellers jump in the race
And help fer to boost the cause,
Let every voter be in his place,
The aunts and the pas and the mas.
Chorus.
We ain't agonna play no more,
We ain't agonna play no more,
Then how in the world kin the Democrats fail
If they ain't agonna play no more.
Our campaign Cam'l totes a load,
The load of a wet, wet lie,
They've peddled it all up and down the road,
But nevertheless, he's dry.
He ain't the kind to brag or bluff,
He's satisfied with acts,
He thinks the truth is good enough
And he ain't afraid of facts.
Chorus
We ain't agonna doubt no more,
We ain't agonna doubt no more,
Then how in the world kin the Democrats fail,
If they ain't agonno doubt no more.
Wright the votes of the right will draw,
The Wright will always win,
And nobody'll dare to bust the law,
Whenever the Wright man's in.
He's like that man of ancient Uz,
Is our own faithful Job,
So we'll send him right back to where he wuz
Taxation matters to probe.
Chorus
We ain't agonna halt no more,
We ain't agonna halt no more,
Then how in the world kin the Democrats fail
If they ain't agonna halt no more.
There's judges from the south and north,
That we must all support,
So voters, fetch yer families forth
And elect a county court.
Polk township's tried her out they say,
And knows her, woof and warp
So come out strong on election day
And help elect Bess Thorp.
Chorus
We ain't agonna rest no more,
We ain't agonna rest no more,
Then how in the world kin the Democrats fail
When they ain't agonna rest no more.

The words of "Vote Them In, Vote Them In," to the tune of Long Ago follows:

Our party stands for the peace of the world,
Then vote them in, vote them in;
Its banners of right are ever unfurled,
Then vote them in, vote them in.
Chorus
Let us return to the good honest ways
Jefferson loved in those far away days,
Let us uphold the high standards he raised
Long, long ago, long ago.
You can't believe in the Fordney tariff law,
Then vote them out, vote them out;
Their program for peace is worthless as straw,
Then vote them out, vote them out.
Chorus
Let us return to the good honest ways
Jefferson loved in those faraway days,
Let us believe in the truths that he taught
Long, long ago, long ago.
Davis and Bryan won't favor the few,
Then vote them in, vote them in;
They're for the welfare of me and you,
Then vote them in, vote them in.
Chorus
Let us return to the good honest ways
Jefferson loved in those faraway days,
Let us denounce the wrongs he denounced,
Long, long ago, long ago.
Do you remember the Fall oil deal?
Then vote them out, vote them out;
Can you recall that Forbes soldier steal?
Then vote them out, vote them out.
Chorus
Let us return to the good honest ways
Jefferson loved in those far away days,
Then let us follow the path that he blazed
Long, long ago, long ago.
Our party slogan is "Justice for all,"
Then vote them in, vote them in;
November the fourth let us rise to the call
Then vote them in, vote them in.
Chorus
Let us return to the good honest ways
Jefferson loved in those far away days,
Let us be loyal as he used to be
Long, long ago, long ago.

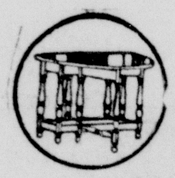
"Where Your Patronage Is Appreciated"



About Juggling Prices---

It is not very satisfactory to buy a thing, and then discover that your friend or neighbor was able to buy the same thing for less money.

It IS satisfactory to know that you are buying as low as anybody else—to know that you are not paying more than your friend or neighbor.

For that reason, and in order that all our customers have the same fair-and-square treatment, there is only one price in our store. No salesman can offer a lower price to one person than to another. No salesman can offer different credit terms to any customer than he can to you.

"Playing favorites" never appealed to us. ALL our customers are "favorites." Nobody can buy for less than you can—here.
